

FEEDBACK OF THE EXCHANGE DAY SPENT AT FUSINE LAKES

On 18th April the students of 2LSAC class had a great experience: a multicultural exchange with Austrian and Slovenian students. It was a day of sharing and caring: exchanging ideas and feeling intense emotions. The interaction with other teenagers was even more significant because of the unique setting: the wonderful scenery of the Fusine Lakes in a bright and warm day of spring! Surrounded by the green snow-capped mountains and the emerald green water of the lakes we felt really happy. We realised soon that the lake has a soul and a life, too. The difference is that human life lasts up to 100 years whereas the life of a lake can last for thousands of years!

We enjoyed watching the quiet green blue water, walking around the lakes, taking pictures together. The alpine nature is so beautiful, so inspirational, so energizing! Fusine lakes looked like paradise that day. Even the interaction between Austrians, Slovenians and Italians became magic thanks to the setting. We spoke to each other in a friendly way: all open minded, curious, talkative.

At the end of the day, we received a good impression of each other, and we noticed that Slovenian students were able to speak different languages, while Austrian students were good at speaking in English. "May your day be sunny!" was the final greeting we exchanged promising to meet again in the near future.

In conclusion, how can we improve this multicultural project? The students have suggested not only to organize games and sport activities, but also to make this experience last for a minimum of two days so as to strengthen international relationships and multicultural knowledge and to improve our spoken English.
